

Canopy Health seeks an experienced finance executive to serve as its next Chief Financial Officer (CFO). Canopy is a unique and progressive managed care organization as a provider-owned and governed business model formed as a joint venture with some of the region's most advanced health systems and provider organizations. Canopy was formed in 2015 by UCSF Health, John Muir Health, Hill Physicians and Meritage Medical Network and offers Commercial HMO, Medicare Advantage and EPO health plan products through partnerships with United Healthcare and Health Net. Canopy has changed the often transactional, adversarial relationship that health plans and providers have, to collaboration for the common purpose of offering more attractive and affordable benefit plans. Working with its hospital, IPA/medical group and health plan partners, Canopy serves employers of all sizes with insured and self-insured options. Canopy has also launched Medicare Advantage plans in five Bay Area counties. Canopy Health launched the network in 2016 with 14,000 members. Today, the Network has approximately 50,000 members and is looking to double membership to 100,000 members by 2023.

The CFO is the chief steward of the financial health of Canopy. Overall financial performance and operating efficiency of the organization will be the CFO's key priority. The new CFO will establish a comprehensive plan to meet the financial goals and objectives while keeping a strong focus on the mission, membership growth and improving financial performance. This is a unique opportunity to work in partnership with the CEO and leadership team to develop and execute the short-term and long-range financial plans in alignment with the overall strategic business plan for the company. The CFO will report directly to the CEO, Mike Robinson, and will be involved in shaping and executing all strategic, financial and operational decisions. The CFO will assume responsibility for the management of overall financial operations, including financial reporting, actuarial and accounting departments.

Canopy is seeking a seasoned leader with experience at the executive level in a high performing organization. Prior experience in the managed care sector working for a healthcare payor or managed care entity with knowledge of commercial and Medicare product lines of business is required. The CFO will be well-versed in collaborating with provider partners in a time of transformational change in the health care industry. It is expected that the next CFO will quickly establish trust and credibility with other members of the leadership team, the board of directors, shareholders and alliance partners. This senior leader will value teamwork and display a level of respect for others that values differing opinions while incorporating team members' feedback into strategic and financial plans. The CFO will also co-manage relationships with health plans and other external partners to ensure the financial wellbeing of the organization.
